

SERVANTS DON'T

Servants don't select the field in which they will work

They work wherever the Master sends them

That's why He is called "Master"

Servants don't decide how much they should get paid

The Master provides exactly what He wants them to have

When He wants them to have it

Servants don't worry about housing

Servant's quarters are guaranteed

And are never beneath them

Servants don't maneuver their way to prominence

Status is determined by Who your Master is

Not the field to which you are assigned to work

Servants don't compare themselves to other Servants

They work only to please the Master

Not others

Servants don't obsess about their future

That is the Master's responsibility

An inheritance is assured
